

Nick Gerner

Entrepreneur & Software Engineer

Washington, DC | njgerner.com

Professional Summary

Experienced Software & Machine Learning Engineer with a demonstrated history of working in the venture technology industry. Skilled in application & API development, cloud technologies, machine learning, and AI. Strong entrepreneurial & engineering professional with a Master's Degree focused in Computer Science from The Johns Hopkins University.

Work Experience

Foundry.ai — Principal Software Engineer | Apr 2016 - Current

Head of Engineering at Curia.ai, an AI Healthcare startup based in Washington, D.C. Designed, built, and managed the Curia AI Platform using Typescript, Python, Spark, AWS, and Terraform. Led the platform team from proof of concept to 10+ FTE. Led technical strategy and engineering efforts across multiple Foundry.ai portfolio companies.

Ghost Creative — Managing Partner | Nov 2015 - Oct 2018

Co-founder and partner at a DC-based software development company and consulting firm serving clients in medical, entertainment, and marketing industries.

Bizy — Software Engineer | Jan 2014 - Jan 2016

Led a team of full-stack and mobile engineers developing collaboration and productivity applications using Node.js, AngularJS, Express, Ionic, Redis, and cloud services.

Accenture — Senior Consulting Analyst - Systems Integration | Jun 2013 - Jan 2014

Full-stack developer working primarily with the US Postal Service. Led development of an analytics dashboard for business initiatives and reporting.

Education

Johns Hopkins University — M.S. Computer Science (Jul 2014 - Feb 2016)

Johns Hopkins University — B.S. Electrical Engineering (Aug 2009 - May 2013)

Skills

JavaScript, AWS, Machine Learning, Vue.js, Project Management, Data Analysis, Artificial Intelligence, Terraform, Spark, Docker, Team Management, Distributed Systems, AngularJS, Node.js, Redis, MySQL, Elasticsearch, NoSQL, Algorithm Development, Express.js, Python, Hapi.js, Stripe, Java, PHP, React, Business Development.